

“The NCTJ certificate sets a gold-standard benchmark, perfectly complemented by the Glasgow Clyde College partnership with Media Scotland.

Through Student Record and the award-winning Clyde Outside supplement, students go from classroom to real-life work environment.

No room for missed deadlines or literals in copy.
No parachute if you cannot dig up a story list.

But plenty of opportunity to build social and networking skills working across 20 local and national print and digital brands.

We are proud to support Glasgow Clyde College and the NCTJ in producing the next generation of print and digital journalism stars.”

Allan Rennie, Managing Director and Editor in Chief, Media Scotland
(Daily Record and Sunday Mail, Scottish and Universal Newspapers)