

Take a stand against 'rubbish' period products...

Did you know?

People who flow will use more than 11000 disposable period products in their lifetime.

Single-use period products create over 200 000 tonnes of waste each year.

Standard disposable period pads are made from 90% plastic.

Half of people with periods in the UK will flush tampons away.

1.5 billion period items are flushed down UK toilet's every year.

There are approximately 370 000 sewer blockages throughout the UK every year.

Benefits of reusable period products

Reusable period products are great at cutting down your waste.

Floco pads can cut the carbon emissions that would have been created from creating and wearing disposable products by up to 90%.*

Reusable period products save you money in the long term. The average period can cost you around £5.00, in 2 years this can cost you at least £130.
